1) The majority of Anthropology courses are taught in MS26, which has a computer, projector and screen. These are used in every class for power point, websites, and videos. But they are horribly old and slow. There are some videos and interactive websites (like 3-d views of Paleolithic cave art) that cannot be viewed on the computer in MS26. It can only handle older things. Many times I have to tell students to watch a video on their own since I can't play it in class. Some days it struggles to work at all. We are putting in a request for projector/cabling/computer replacement in MS 26 to better serve our students and provide them info that will help them succeed.

2) Last year anthropology faculty spent some of their own money to buy 3 posters for the classroom related to subject matter taught in class. These have been popular with students, increase engagement, and serve as talking points and visuals for lecture discussions. Having anthropological materials and maps on the walls of MS26 will promote student success. We are putting in a request for money to purchase anthropological posters and world maps for the anthropology classroom (MS26), and potentially for laminating the posters/maps, to better engage our students and promote student success.

I am requesting the following:

- 1) projector/cabling/computer replacement in classroom MS 26.

- 2) funding for educational and anthropological classroom posters and maps.

Thank you for your consideration!
