I am requesting the following:

Nine laptops for use in physics labs. These laptops will be the basis for technology-based labs to ensure students are future focused with modern experiments. Laptops would be more useful than desktops as physics labs take place in more than one room and are not needed for every lab. Laptops would allow the purchase of only one class set of nine that could be shared among lab rooms, specifically SE 4, 8, and 13. The minimum requirements to run the software needed are Windows 7 SP 1 or higher operating system, 2 GHz or faster processor, 2 GB or greater RAM, 1024x768 or greater resolution, 1 GB of free hard drive space, and 1 free USB port. Bluetooth capability is a plus. For a new version, the Lenovo IdeaPad 320 Laptop (15") AMD is listed at $379.99 and would meet all of the above qualifications. Average about $400, this would be a total cost of roughly $3,600. However, repurposed laptops would be just as beneficial to students if available.
