

Nutrition	16-17	17-18	18-19	19-20	20-21	21-22
NUTRB10 - Introduction to Nutrition Science
• 1. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to apply dietary guidelines and current nutrition recommendations to his/her own diet.				P
• 2. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to scientifically analyze and evaluate nutrition information.				P
• 3. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to correlate nutrition to health, fitness, and disease.				P
• 4. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to evaluate his/her own nutrition and dietary intake by utilizing a computer database.					P
• 5. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will demonstrate an understanding of the physiological role and impact of nutrition on individuals progressing through the various stages of the life cycle.					P
NUTRB48WE - Occupational Work Experience Education/Internship
• 1. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to articulate the specific work experience objectives in Dietetic Services as described by employer and identify the various skills, knowledge and attitudes necessary to the accomplishment of those objectives.				P
• 2. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to demonstrate the acquisition of the various skills, knowledge and attitudes necessary to the completion of the work experience objectives in Dietetic Services and the ability to effectively meet employer's job expectations.				P
• 3. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to identify and analyze the application of acquired skills, knowledge and attitudes to career opportunities in Dietetic Services.				P
NUTRB50 - Modified Diets
• 1. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will analyze nutrition for various disease states, the need for prescribed diets, and the principles of modified diets.				P
• 2. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to describe the nutrition care process and the role of each nutrition professional, including the registered dietitian.				P
• 3. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to examine pertinent nutrition related information from a patient's medical record.				P
• 4. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will develop the necessary skills to interview patients to assess food tolerances, habits and cultural/religious issues related to food in order to accommodate an individual's food needs/preferences and make appropriate menu substitutions.				P		