What does it mean to be in a Public Servant Leadership role?
Servant Leadership is a term coined by Robert Greenleaf (2002). It calls for leaders to be more pragmatic in their roles of leading others by being a servant first. The servant leader must work with flexibility in order to be responsive to the needs of those who benefit from their service (Pollard, 2006). They must also provide a fresh outlook based on their past experiences and contribute to their organization by meeting its demands in an earnest effort. Exhibiting such behavior definitely may have a positive impact on others; thus inspiring them to do more to help others.

The servant leader is "one who is a servant first" (Greenleaf, 2002). A servant leader not only serves as he or she leads, but also is supported by a mass of constituents who work similarly as hard to carry out major themes. To that end, they create a field of influence that stimulates the following (Simonaitiene, Leonaviiene, & Zvirdauskas, 2004):

- Perspective thinking
- Exchange thoughts on future plans
- A strive for improvement
- Initiating new projects
- Openness for innovations and experiments
- Suggesting new and good ideas
- Noticing more possibilities than problems, as well as a fast take to decisions
- Exercising flexibility

Not only do Servant leaders act in the capacity of a leader. They are also learners, mentors, motivators, and educators. They help foster relationships between organizations, especially in the public sector, and the community at large. These relationships, in return, become the foundation for building strong relationships both in governmental agencies and constituent services.

BCSGA Candidate Donation Form

This form is used when any item or service is donated to a candidate. Please note that any item(s) or service(s) granted to the candidate must be recorded as half of the going rate for said item(s) or service(s) on the budget, but actual cost should be recorded on this form. Please use only one form per donated item or service. Donator must sign the form and include the listed contact information. Monetary donations are not considered donations under BCSGA Elections Code and any items purchased with donated funds may not be counted at half the actual costs. Any items donated must be counted as having some cost. For example, if someone donates 50 sheets of paper they own, the actual cost would be calculated as whatever the cost is worth in the community. In the case where donator cannot confirm current worth of materials or services, the candidate may obtain a bid for said materials or services and use that amount as the actual cost. Bids must be attached to each donation form.
