To enhance the quality of online distance education courses, Bakersfield College, under the leadership of the executive vice president of academic affairs and student services, and the dean of learning resources will develop and implement by spring 2013 a detailed plan to improve the services to distance education students to increase their ability to succeed in their courses. The plan will include the appropriate support to implement the following:

Annual Program Review Summary of APR Process and Outcomes, Fall 2012

Academically Underprepared Students

- Several units indicated their concern and observations of a growing number of students who are academically underprepared to succeed at the college level, and/or who seem to require academic support. These increasing demands, combined with decreasing institutional resources to support these students, require additional support from faculty, as well as impact course success and retention rates.

Student Success and Retention

- Some programs experienced increases in their success and retention rates. However, several programs continue to experience lower than desirable rates. Providing additional support and guidance to programs regarding realistic rates may help guide their efforts.

Program Viability Criteria

Meets one of the 3 core missions: CTE, basic skills and/or general education for transfer

All Areas

- Success Rate (by course & discipline) – as compared to similar programs at California community colleges with similar demographics
- Retention Rate (by course & discipline) – as compared to similar programs at California community colleges with similar demographics
- Course Completion Rate - as compared to similar programs at California community colleges with similar demographics
- Trend Enrollment for 5 years (census date)
- Cost/FTES (after discipline review and correction of data)
- Productivity Rate (FTES/FTEF) – as compared to similar programs statewide.
- Ability for students to complete their program of study (can be used to demonstrate the number of students need the program)
- The “Domino Effect” (how the elimination of a course/program will impact other programs)

- For programs rating low, consideration should also be the ability to generate revenue other than FTES (e.g., ticket sales, donations, grants) for the benefit of the program or the college as a whole

Basic Skills

- Basic Skills Instruction (as it relates to student success based on local needs)

CTE Areas

- Employment Outlook for Kern County, Region and State- Demonstrates Community Need
- Employment statistics of BC students
- CTE Licensure Exam Pass Rates of Graduates
- CTE Program Completion Rate
- Ability to meet outside agency standards including accrediting agencies, licensing boards and other governing bodies

Student Services

- Transfer Model Curriculum (either complete or in process)
- Transfer-ready rates of students

Budget Criteria

Student Success: The budget decision will improve (or at a minimum, maintain) student success in one or more of the college's core mission areas: transfer, basic skills, and career/technical education (CTE). Student success measures will include items such as:

Decision-Making Document

Bakersfield College Participatory Governance Philosophy

Bakersfield College values an open and reflective participatory governance process where our collective commitment to meeting student and community needs drives our decisions. By participatory governance, we mean that all constituent groups will be given the opportunity to participate effectively in all areas where they are significantly affected, in a manner that is consistent with Education Code, Title 5 and Board Policy. This process is dependent upon establishing clear lines of communication before and after decisions are made, using qualitative and quantitative data when providing recommendations or input, and demonstrating respect and civility in discourse.

Recommendations and decisions are well communicated throughout the campus community. Employees will be active in reading these communications and will ask questions, seek clarification, and provide feedback to engage in continual dialog that strengthens the decision-making process.

Facilities and Infrastructure

Improve maintenance of college facilities and infrastructure.

Bakersfield College Strategic Plan, 2012-13 through 2014-15:

- 3.1 Implement and evaluate the new maintenance and operations software system
- 3.2 Prioritize maintenance and repairs (KCCD 3.2)

Decision-Making Document

Evaluation Process

Initial Base-line Survey

To assure the effectiveness of college-level decision-making processes as described in this document, a formative evaluation began in spring 2010. The initial “baseline” survey assessed perceptions about the adequacy of representation of employee and student groups in college-level decision making, and the effectiveness of decision-making processes at Bakersfield College. It also included items about constituents’ location, role, and opinion of draft documents.

Results from the baseline survey provided feedback about this document as well as baseline information for future comparisons. Results provided a basis for improvements in the decision-making processes and corresponding changes in the document.

Ongoing Evaluation

The continual evaluation process, including an annual on-line survey, will be the responsibility of College Council. All employees and student government representatives will receive an email invitation from the College president to participate in the survey. Communication of results will be through College Council.

The decision-making process will be refined over time and its effectiveness assessed with the intent to provide continuous improvement to the quality of teaching, learning, and service to students.
